

Seat 4: Paul Edmonds was the Vice President of Operations at National Semiconductor and the Operations Manager Fairchild Semiconductor until his retirement in 2010. He is an experienced semiconductor professional with 42 years of Wafer Fab engineering, operations management, Greenfield Construction, and global technology transfers. His specialties are Wafer Fab turnarounds to improve cost performance, project management, Wafer Fab construction and start-up and benchmarking.

Paul currently consults in the semiconductor industry and is an Adjunct professor at USM. He is a SCORE mentor with the Portland Maine chapter. Education: Applied Science, Forestry, BS in Business Management, MBA in Engineering Management, Global Technology Management accelerated MBA from Stanford.